Mission of the Stockton Teacher Education Program
The mission of the Teacher Education Program is to prepare competent, caring, qualified educators. Teachers prepared by Stockton College are competent in both subject matter and pedagogical skills and prove themselves to be caring practitioners in diverse and technologically rich learning environments.

Program Overview
The Stockton Teacher Education Program is accredited by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC), an independent agency nationally recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation and the U.S. Department of Education. Stockton’s teacher certification curricula have been approved by the New Jersey Department of Education and are recognized by the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification.

The Teacher Education Program is a certification program that prepares candidates to teach a wide range of subjects in grades K-12. The Teacher Education Program offers both: course work leading to elementary teacher certification with middle school specializations and course work in subject matter certifications (K-12). Middle school specializations include mathematics, science, language arts and social studies. Subject matter certifications include art, biological science, chemistry, earth science, physical science, physics, mathematics, English, social studies and world languages.

The Teacher Education Program is a fieldwork-intensive program requiring candidates to spend 200 hours in public schools prior to the student-teaching semester. Field experiences (including Student Teaching) are coordinated and organized by the School of Education.

Students complete certification requirements either in conjunction with or following the completion of a first bachelor’s degree in the liberal arts or other major.

The Stockton College School of Graduate Studies also offers endorsement programs for certified teachers in English as a Second Language (ESL), Bilingual/Bicultural Education, Students with Disabilities (TOSD), Preschool-Grade 3 (P-3), Supervisor, Principal, Reading Specialist, and Learning Disabilities Teacher-Consultant (LDTC).

Bachelor of Arts in Teacher Education (BATE)
In order for a student to receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in Teacher Education, he or she must have already earned or concurrently earn a first bachelor’s degree in another field of study and complete the teacher education program. In so doing, the student must complete all certification course requirements and submit a Graduation Application during student teaching.

Praxis II Test Deadlines for Student Teaching Placement

The deadline to file passing Praxis II scores with the School of Education is May 15 for an upcoming FALL semester student teaching placement and November 1 for an upcoming SPRING semester student teaching placement.

Student Teaching

The 12 credit course requirements for the Student Teaching are the same for all Stockton students.

The Certification Semester [12 credits]
- EDUC 4990 Student Teaching [10] Student Teaching is a full semester (fifteen consecutive weeks) experience of observing, planning, and teaching in area public elementary or secondary school.
- EDUC 4991 Student Teaching Seminar [2] - This is a co-requisite with Student Teaching; topics include classroom management strategies, instructional skills, professional portfolio design, and employment interview preparation.

The School of Education provides a Handbook for Student Teaching at this site.

Students must earn a grade of B minus (B-) or higher in each course in the professional education sequence of courses (the Introductory, Intermediate, and Student Teaching Semesters). Once admitted into the Teacher Education Program, a student may not register for a course in the Professional Education Requirements more than 2 times (Introductory, Intermediate, or Student Teaching).

Student teaching follows the calendar of the individual school districts and not the college calendar.

Students must earn a grade of B minus (B-) or higher in each course in the professional education sequence of courses.

A student may not register for a course in the Professional Education sequence more twice.

The School of Education reserves the right to determine whether or not the student will be permitted to repeat Student Teaching, after a period of reflection.

<td>All Levels – Ed Psych, Intro, Intermediate, and Student Teaching</td>
<td>The intent of the field experience is to provide students with opportunities to put information learned in their education courses into practice. The field experience offers students opportunities to assist in the learning process within the school setting. All students will have field experiences in a variety of school environments. In all fieldwork experiences, students are expected to observe and participate. As a student proceeds through the Program, the level of active participation increases. The program faculty and fieldwork supervisors define the requirements for field experiences—and the mentor teachers help facilitate these experiences.</td>
<td>Fieldwork placements are coordinated and organized by the School of Education.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Policies | All final decisions regarding placement are at the discretion of the School of Education.
Fieldwork placements must be completed within the State of New Jersey in a public school setting.
Students must have at least one placement in an A/B School District, identified by the NJDOE as a low income school district. | A student may not conduct fieldwork at a site that has not been authorized and approved by the School of Education.
The student will not be placed in a school where he/she has had a personal or professional relationship (a school that he/she attended and/or from which he/she graduated, a school where family members are attending or working, or a school where he/she substituted or completed other field work). |
| Guidelines | Students are expected to follow the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers and the NEA Code of Ethics.
You are expected to be familiar with these, as well as other rules and policies unique to your fieldwork placement setting.
If questions or problems arise, your fieldwork instructor and the School of Education professional staff are available to offer further guidance. Stockton asks that teacher candidates follow basic courtesies and standards of professional conduct, including but not limited to the following:
- As soon as you receive your fieldwork confirmation, please contact the school immediately. Identify yourself as a student in the School of Education Program at Stockton, give them your name, and schedule a time to meet with the cooperating teacher.
- Be prompt and attend as expected. Follow the school’s procedures for check -in upon entering or leaving the building.
- Do not discuss school matters outside of a professional context. The professional context includes teachers, school administrators and other educational personnel, college supervisor, | and the School of Education faculty. Rumors and statements based on misconceptions or half-truths can cause embarrassment to the school community, the School of Education, the college, and to the student teacher.

- Do not contact or interact with students in any way outside of the classroom or school setting. No social networking, online interactions, meetings outside of the classroom or school setting, or nonprofessional contacts with students of any kind are allowed.

- If a student makes any attempt to interact with you in any way outside of the academic setting, including online email or social networking, do not respond. Report the attempted contact to your cooperating teacher, fieldwork instructor, and program coordinator immediately.

- Do not use any personal electronic devices while you are engaged in your student teaching activities. This includes texting while in the classroom.

- Always wear appropriate professional attire. Become familiar with and adhere to the school’s policy on teacher dress code.

- Always use appropriate professional language.

- In the public schools, students do not call teachers by their first name. As a professional educator, the student teacher should always be addressed as Mrs., Ms., Mr., or whatever title is appropriate.

- Follow all general school policies regarding such things as chewing gum, eating, smoking, parking, etc.

- Do nothing to undermine the delicate relationship between a teacher and his/her students. Always follow the classroom teacher’s directions when working with his/her students. Unless specifically asked, never offer suggestions or alternative plans.

- Expect continued analysis of your classroom performance by experienced educators. Accepting constructive criticism without defensiveness and incorporating that feedback into future lessons is an essential part of your own professional development.

<td>Failure to attend this meeting will cause a delay in having an individual’s licensure application forwarded to the NJDOE.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Recommendation for Certification from the School of Education</td>
<td>After the application is approved by the School of Education and after clearance from the College to release transcripts, the recommendation for certification is submitted to the New Jersey Department of Education in Trenton.</td>
<td>The submission requires the following: reviewing individual records for holds on Stockton accounts, checking inconsistencies in transcripts, and producing individual documentation that an approved training program has been completed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Receipt of the Actual Teaching License/Certificate</td>
<td>Students may anticipate receiving the Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) from the NJDOE within two months of the submission. The holder of a CEAS certificate may apply for jobs in New Jersey or in states party to the Interstate Certification Agreement and the NASDTEC reciprocity agreements. There are currently more than 40 states involved to some degree in certification reciprocity. After a year of successful teaching with mentoring in a New Jersey public school district, the holder of a CEAS will be eligible for a New Jersey Standard Certificate.</td>

Behavioral Expectations for Continuation and Certification in Education Programs

If at any time faculty members indicate that they have concerns about a student’s progress and/or dispositions toward the teaching profession; the administration has the right to require additional and/or alternative evaluation procedures or to prescribe remedial action. In some cases it may be necessary to terminate a student from the Program. Specific procedures are outlined below.

Candidates must take responsibility to meet written and fieldwork portions of the academic course as well as meet professional expectations of the Teacher Education Program. The goal of the Program is to help teacher candidates meet all professional and academic standards to become competent, caring, qualified educators.

There are times when a student meets written academic requirements but does not demonstrate appropriate professional behavior at the College or in field placements, as well as demonstrate unacceptable behavior at the College or in his/her field placements. If a candidate has difficulty with any part of his or her academic program or fails to demonstrate appropriate professional behaviors, Program faculty and/or staff will intervene. That intervention may result in the development of an individualized professional growth plan, up to or including dismissal from the program. When disciplinary action is called for, the matter may be referred to the Campus Hearing Board.

When incidents or questions as to professional or unethical behaviors are reported to Program faculty or administrators, Program faculty and staff will make every effort to gather information and evidence from multiple sources, including fieldwork supervisors, faculty members, school personnel, law enforcement or other state agencies. Depending on the nature and severity of concerns noted, the response to the situation will differ and be dealt with on a case by case basis. Teacher candidates’ behaviors or circumstances that may result in intervention and/or removal from one of the Programs are listed below to provide the teacher candidate a better understanding of Program expectations:

1) Behaviors in violation of the RSC Campus Conduct Code (as found in the College Bulletin and Student Handbook). See http://intraweb.stockton.edu/eyos/page.cfm?siteID=67&pageID=16

3) Multiple faculty reports to the program coordinator or administrators about a candidate’s negative actions or attitudes regarding the teaching profession.

4) Unprofessional or unethical behavior as described in the Handbook of the Stockton Teacher Education Program and the Student Teaching Handbook.

5) Behavior during fieldwork service or student teaching that is deemed unacceptable by field placement school personnel based on that field placement school’s code of conduct or other policies.

6) Irresponsible behaviors that may include disregard for the school’s calendar, daily schedule, health and safety policies and procedures.
7) Behavior considered conduct unbecoming a New Jersey certified Teacher, including factors that the New Jersey Department of Education would use to rescind or deny teacher certification.

Based on programmatic concerns and in the professional academic judgment of the Program faculty and staff of the School of Education, the College reserves the right to take action up to and including removal from the Program for behaviors listed in items 1-7 above.

Matters of an academic nature that become serious may require disciplinary action through the Office of the Provost, or, in some cases, the College’s Campus Hearing Board. The determination as to whether a matter requires disciplinary action is a matter of professional judgment to be decided by Program faculty and staff of the School of Education on a case by case basis.
Procedures for Review of Alleged Violations of Behavioral Expectations

After gathering information, the program faculty and administration will determine the appropriate action to be taken. Based on the facts presented and in the professional academic judgment of the Program faculty, actions from dismissal of the claims up to and including dismissal from the Program or referral to the College’s Campus Hearing Board will be considered, as outlined below. The level of review undertaken by the School of Education will be determined by the Dean of Education (or his/her designee) based upon the severity of the alleged behavioral violations.

Level 1 Review

If it is determined that the student had problems in field placement and such problems were not caused by the student’s improper action, the School of Education will provide the student with an alternative field placement. The circumstances will be recorded in the student’s file.

Level 2 Review

Where a student violates College policy, fails to meet professional standards, has a negative attitude toward the teaching profession, acts unprofessionally or acts inappropriately in field placement as set out in the Program Handbook and Student Teaching Handbook, and the Program faculty has determined that such behaviors can be remediated, the student may meet with the Program coordinator to identify and discuss the faculty’s concerns, and the student will be given specifics regarding what actions need to be improved. The student will receive a written warning which will document the facts and remediation. The circumstances will be recorded in the student’s file.

Level 3 Review

If a student has a repeated pattern of behaviors at Level 2, the Program Coordinator and/or the Dean of Education, as appropriate, will follow the procedures as outlined below:

- A student whose behaviors and judgments appear to warrant termination will receive written notice specifying concerns.
- A student will be given the opportunity to meet with Program Coordinator/Director and the Dean of Education and other individuals, as appropriate, to develop a professional growth plan itemizing specific actions, stipulating specific required behavioral changes within a designated time frame to serve as a contract to possibly avoid termination from the program.
- If a student meets the requirements of the growth plan, no action to terminate will occur. Completion of the growth plan agreement does not preclude consideration of termination in the future if student’s behavior warrants such consideration.
- If a student does not fulfill the growth plan agreement or does not choose to participate in developing a growth plan, the student will be given written notice of intent to terminate for professional academic reasons. All recommendations to terminate a student for professional reasons will be made by the Dean of Education to the Provost.
- The Provost will make the final decision regarding termination from the Program.
- The actions will be documented in the student’s file.

Level 4 Review

When a student’s behavior violates any item 1-7 above, the Program Coordinator/Director, Dean of Education, and Provost reserve the right to immediately terminate the student. The following procedure will be followed:

- The student will be notified in writing of intent to terminate specifying the cause of the decision.
- The student will be provided a hearing opportunity to present any additional information.
- The Dean of Education with the Program Coordinator/Director will make a recommendation regarding termination for professional academic reasons to the Provost.
- The Provost will make the final decision.
- The actions will be documented in the student’s file.

Level 5 Review

Where in the opinion of the Program faculty a student has violated College policy and such act(s) warrant discipline, in addition to academic action, the Program faculty may refer the matter to the Campus Hearing Board. The actions will be documented in the student’s file.
Student Teaching Termination

Definition

In addition to self-termination, a student teacher may be terminated by the school district in which she/he is placed, or by the School of Education.

Policy

Students must adhere to the policies and procedures of the College (Campus Conduct Code as found in the College Bulletin and Student Handbook) the School of Education (Handbook of the Teacher Education Program & Student Teacher Handbook) and the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers (N.J.A.C.6A:9). A breach of any of the above may result in student teaching termination.

Reasonable Cause

Students may be considered for termination following verifiable reports of unprofessional or unethical conduct, or multiple reports of a student’s lack of capacity for appropriate teaching dispositions. Reasons for termination include, but are not limited to, inadequacy, incompetency, insubordination, and ethical misconduct. Be advised that a school district holds the right to terminate a student teacher at any time.

Procedure

When the School of Education is formally alerted to an alleged breach, it is immediately referred to the Dean of Education. A student whose behavior appears to warrant termination will receive written notice from the Dean of Education specifying concerns. The School of Education will make every effort to gather information from multiple sources (college supervisor, appropriate faculty, school administrator(s) and mentoring teachers) regarding the alleged infraction(s). Once the investigation is complete, the decision for continuance in the Teacher Education Program rests with the Dean of Education. The recommendation to terminate a student will be made by the Dean of Education to the Provost. The Provost will make the final College decision regarding termination from the Teacher Education Program.

Charges for Incurred Expenses

Should a student be terminated, or self-terminate at any time once student teaching begins, she/he will be assessed accordingly for College expenses already incurred, i.e. tuition & fees, cooperating teacher’s honorarium, student teaching supervisor fees, administrative costs, etc. Any monetary refunds are subject to student teaching timetables (fall/spring) and College policy. Note: the student teaching experience begins approximately three weeks prior to the official start of classes for the spring term.

Grading/Withdrawal

Grading and withdrawal procedures will be determined on an individual basis according to the policies outlined by the College, and at the discretion of the Dean of Education.
Career Opportunities

Certification does not ensure employment. Students are urged to prepare beyond the minimum requirements and to develop and document unique talents that are in demand in schools.

Completion of an accredited program provides the certified teacher with many options including employment in other states and abroad. Graduate study in education or in the major area of study as it relates to teaching is an option. Students should also know that work in education may contribute specifically to preparation for work in a variety of human service and leadership positions.

Students should seek advice from the Office of Career Planning and Placement—(609) 652-4650.

Stockton Components of Professional Practice

The Teacher Education Program at Stockton uses a developmental approach toward teacher competency development built upon the work of Charlotte Danielson found in Enhancing Professional Practice: A Framework for Teaching (2007, 2011, ASCD, Alexandria).

Students in the Stockton initial certification program begin developing pedagogical knowledge during Introductory Semester coursework, build upon that knowledge and begin practicing caring teaching practices during the Intermediate Semester coursework, and demonstrate novice levels of expertise in these areas during Student Teaching. Instructors in the Introductory and Intermediate Semester courses assess student performance for beginning levels of appropriate recognition and performance in selected components from the four domains. During Student Teaching, a supervisor and cooperating teacher guide each student toward demonstrating the tasks and dispositions expected of a novice teacher. The performance of each student teacher is assessed and evaluated in each of the four domains of the Stockton Components of Professional Practice. These four domains outline the professional practices and responsibilities expected of a professional educator. These domains align to the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers. All teacher students must strive to meet these standards.

New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers
NJAC 6A:9-3.3—Effective 01/05/09

Teacher preparation, district induction, and professional development programs shall align their learning opportunities with the following standards:

1. Standard One: Subject Matter Knowledge. Teachers shall understand the central concepts, tools of inquiry, structures of the discipline, especially as they relate to the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards (CCCS), and design developmentally appropriate learning experiences making the matter accessible and meaningful to all students.

2. Standard Two: Human Growth and Development. Teachers shall understand how children and adolescents develop and learn in a variety of school, family and community contents and provide opportunities that support their intellectual, social, emotional, and physical development.

4. Standard Four: Instructional Planning and Strategies. Teachers shall understand instructional planning, design long and short term plans based upon knowledge of subject matter, students, community, and curriculum goals, and shall employ a variety of developmentally appropriate strategies in order to promote critical thinking, problem solving, and the performance skills of all learners.

5. Standard Five: Assessment. Teachers shall understand individual and use multiple assessment strategies and interpret results to evaluate and promote student learning and to modify instruction in order to foster the continuous development of students.

6. Standard Six: Learning Environment. Teachers shall understand individual and group motivation and behavior and shall create a supportive, safe, and respectful learning environment that encourages positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.

7. Standard Seven: Special Needs. Teachers shall adapt and modify instruction to accommodate the learning needs of all students.

8. Standard Eight: Communication. Teachers shall use knowledge of effective verbal, non-verbal and written communication techniques and the tools of information literacy to foster the use of inquiry, collaboration, and supportive interactions.

9. Standard Nine: Collaboration and Partnership. Teachers shall build relationships with school colleagues, families, and agencies in the larger community to support students’ learning and well-being.

10. Standard Ten: Professional Development. Teachers shall participate as active, responsible members of the professional community, engaging in a wide range of reflective practices, pursuing opportunities to grow professionally, and establishing collegial relationships to enhance the teaching and learning process.

11. Standard Eleven: Professional Responsibility. Teachers shall act in accordance with legal and ethical responsibilities and shall use integrity and fairness to promote the success of all students.
NEA Code of Ethics of the Education Profession

Preamble

The educator, believing in the worth and dignity of each human being, recognizes the supreme importance of the pursuit of truth, devotion to excellence, and the nurture of the democratic principles. Essential to these goals is the protection of freedom to learn and to teach and the guarantee of equal educational opportunity for all. The educator accepts the responsibility to adhere to the higher ethical standards.

The educator recognizes the magnitude of the responsibility inherent in the teaching process. The desire for the respect and confidence of one’s colleagues, of students, of parents, and of the community provides the incentive to attain and maintain the highest possible degree of ethical conduct. The Code of Ethics of the Education Profession indicates the aspiration of all educators and provides standards by which to judge conduct.

The remedies specified by the NEA and/or its affiliates for the violation of any provision of this Code shall be exclusive and no such provision shall be enforceable in any form other than the one specifically designated by the NEA or its affiliates.

Principle I – Commitment to the Student

The educator strives to help each student realizes his or her potential as a worthy and effective member of society. The educator therefore works to stimulate the spirit of inquiry, the acquisition of knowledge and understanding, and the thoughtful formation of worthy goals.

In fulfillment of the obligation to the student, the educator –

1. Shall not unreasonably restrain the student from independent action in the pursuit of learning
2. Shall not unreasonably deny the student’s access to varying points of view
3. Shall not deliberately suppress or distort subject matter relevant to the student’s progress.
4. Shall make reasonable effort to protect the student from conditions harmful to learning or to health and safety
5. Shall not intentionally expose the student to embarrassment or disparagement
6. Shall not on the basis of race, color, creed, sex, national origin, marital status, political or religious beliefs, family, social or cultural background, or sexual orientation, unfairly –
   a. Exclude any student from participation in any program.
   b. Deny benefits to any student.
   c. Grant any advantage to any student.
7. Shall not use professional relationships with the students for private advantage
8. Shall not disclose information about students obtained in the course of professional service unless disclosure serves a compelling professional purpose or is required by law.

Principle II – Commitment to the Profession

The education profession is vested by the public with a trust and responsibility requiring the highest ideals of professional service.

In the belief that the quality of the services of the education profession directly influences the nation and its citizens, the educator shall exert every effort to raise professional standards, to promote a climate that encourages the exercise of professional judgment, to achieve conditions that attract persons worthy of the trust to careers in education, and to assist in preventing the practice of the profession by unqualified persons.

In fulfillment of the profession, the educator –

1. Shall not in an application for a professional position deliberately make a false statement or fail to disclose a material fact related to competency and qualifications.
2. Shall not misrepresent his/her professional qualifications.
3. Shall not assist any entry into the profession of a person known to be unqualified in respect to character, education, or other relevant attribute.
4. Shall not knowingly make a false statement concerning the qualifications of a student for a professional position
5. Shall not assist a non-educator in the unauthorized practice of teaching.
6. Shall not disclose information about colleagues obtained in the course of professional service unless disclosure serves a compelling professional purpose or is required by law
7. Shall not knowingly make false or malicious statements about a colleague.
8. Shall not accept any gratuity, gift, or favor that might impair or appear to influence professional decisions or action
